

“JUSTICE SUNDAY™ advocates faith in action and the charge we have to make a difference in the quality of life for all. Throughout the United Methodist Church, it represents Human Relations Day, and service before and beyond that Sunday should be those on which we exercise our individual and collective energies to ensure equal brother and sisterhood.”

Rev. Bill Mefford

Director of Civil and Human Rights
United Methodist Church General Board of Church and Society

“ . . . American Baptists have been called to be Christ’s witnesses for justice and wholeness within a broken society. We have been led by the Gospel mandates to promote holistic change within society. As Christians and leaders of American Baptist Churches USA, we have a pastoral and prophetic concern for what we are witnessing . . . We will continually examine our own roles and attitudes to eliminate any vestiges of racism and we will work to witness for racial justice which is implicit in the Christian faith...We will recognize that concern for racial justice is not confined to American Baptist churches. We will work with other religious, ecumenical and secular groups with similar concerns to secure racial justice...”

American Baptist Home Mission Societies

American Baptist Churches USA

In an electronic catalog of rich reflections, photos, and resources published by the Episcopal Church in Practices: Community Responds, the Episcopal Church writes, “. . . Communities of faith have responded in a variety of ways to the death of Michael Brown, the difficult issues raised between persons and communities in the weeks and months since, and the cries for reconciliation rooted in justice and equality. Responding with prayer, questioning, marching, and holding community forums are only a few examples of the ways that clergy and lay people of various faith traditions have called for reconciliation rooted in justice. . . .”

<http://advocacy.episcopalchurch.org/AWayForward>

Facilitate Assistance in Transition and Healing (F.A.I.T.H.)